SEEDING COMMUNITY SPIRIT

North Perth Community Garden (NPCG) is 820m² of gardening bliss, with a little something for everyone. Offering a place for the community to gather and grow together, the NPCG seek to innovate within a garden atmosphere, whilst also establishing new ways of growing plants - aiming to keep their garden as organic as possible and focusing on zero waste.

On Thursday 21 October, a team of volunteers from the MECoE Southflank Planning Team joined the team at the North Perth Community Garden for a spring day under the sun (or rain clouds as it turned out). The team were there to help in any way possible, adding some much needed people power to the garden. After an introduction by Emma, NPCG coordinator, the team split up and got to work, tasked with various activities throughout the garden - including general gardening tasks, helping weeding the greenhouse, sorting through native garden beds, doing work on the fruit trees, painting fences and posts, digging trenches, and moving furniture. The team smashed through the list of tasks and by lunch time, had achieved everything the NPCG team had hoped for.

Thanks to all who attended, it was a great day and we hope you all enjoyed your volunteering experience.
