TEAM WORK ON THE TRAILS!

Kalamunda Mountain Bike Collective (KMBC) is a not-for-profit collective committed to making mountain biking exciting and accessible for everyone. No matter your bike, age, or experience, KMBC is a community where all riders are welcome and have an equal voice. They are also dedicated to the preservation of flora and wildlife, as they respectfully ride through our unique Australian bush. This volunteer-run trail advocacy group also aims to provide sustainable and environmentally sensitive trails of international standards. Kalamunda's mountain bike trail network stretches over 60km and is located alongside Mundaring Weir Road. The trails are maintained by KMBC and work in conjunction with Department of Biodiversity.

On a beautiful winters day in September, an eager group of volunteers from BHP's WAIOTECS team dedicaed their day to assist KMBC with trail maintainance. After an introductive by Cam, the team made their way over to the 'Lube Me Up' trail - which is a climb that takes riders from Metasoma trail all the way to the very top of the hill, and the start of Scorpion trail - with some very tight corners. The team were tasked with creating drainage along the trail and doing general maintenance of the site. It was very physcal work - with the group splitting into smaller groups and working their way up the hill - tools and all. At the end of the day, the team were able to enjoy a well earned lunch out in the quiet of nature together. Cam from KMBC was so appreciative of groups efforts throughout the day - everyone came ready to get their hands dirty, and so much was accomplished in one day. Thanks WAIOTECS team, we hope you enjoyed your volunteering experience with KMBC.
