VOLUNTEERS TO THE RESCUE

Marine Rescue Port Hedland's purpose is to preserve life at sea. The group is a volunteer organisation with professionally trained personnel, ready to assist 24 hours a day, 365 days of the year. They aim to be world class in volunteer marine rescue with teams of skilled, effective and efficient volunteers and the best equipment. We encourage and respect one another's views and recognise the contributions and efforts that are made.

On Thursday 7th September, 14 dedicated volunteers from BHP Rail Site Improvement came together for a fun afternoon volunteering their time at Hedland Marine Rescue. The team began working on a number of tasks such as: washing vehicles and boats inside and out, replanting a large tree, 5S vehicles and boats and completing inventory list, cleaning back verandah, pressure washing concrete area, cleaning benches and tables, cleaning and sorting shed, spraying weeds around the yard, tighten acrow props, cutting down fallen trees, green waste cleanup, greasing trailer points with marine grease on Iron Pride and Cape Thouins Trailer and lastly a containers for change drop off at Wedgefield.

It was a mammoth effort to complete so many tasks in short period of time but the team worked well together and as some of the volunteers were apart of the Hedland Marine Rescue they were already familiar with what tasks needed to be done.

The team were treated to a BBQ, great music and awesome atmosphere throughout their volunteering experience, which made for a fantastic day helping a worthwhile organisation.

Thank you, BHP, for your time and helping hands. We hope you enjoyed the day.
