PACKING PROS

Little Things for Tiny Tots, a non-profit organisation run completely by volunteers, provides necessary infant products, including both new and lightly used items, to families in need in WA. They put together New Baby Boxes containing essential items like diapers, wipes, clothing, blankets, and books, with the goal of assisting families in nurturing their infants. These New Baby Boxes are distributed through their partner organisations, which consist of non-profit support services, women's shelters, hospitals, and government agencies.

On Tuesday 6 February, 11 volunteers from BHP spent the day at Little Things for Tiny Tots. Greeted by Lori and Laura, the team was ready for the day. Split into groups and each focusing on a different task the day got under way. One team sorting loose nappies into sizes and bagging according to size and number, another team reconstructing boxes and the third team was packing the new baby boxes. The teams smashed through this with the nappies sorted before lunch! After a well deserved lunch break the team finished off their current tasks and moved on to the next. Including packing feeding bags, bottle bags, books & toys boxes and the remainder of the new baby boxes. In total the team created 65 new baby boxes, 25 book & toy boxes and over 25 feeding and bottles bags!!

A big thank you to this incredible team of volunteers for dedicating their day to making a positive impact. Little Things for Tiny Tots is truly grateful for your valuable time and support!
