FREEZER WARRIORS

Every year, up to four million people in Australia - 18% of the population - regularly experience food insecurities. All year round, Foodbank works hard to change this and alleviate hunger throughout Australia. Working in partnership with BHP, the not-for-profit organisation provides more than 70% of the food for relief organisations nation-wide: a massive and very important contribution which actively ensures people and families don't go hungry.

On Monday 12 July, six volunteers from BHP's Whaleback Engineering Team started their week by assisting Foodbank in the warehouse. The team were tasked with packing dessert bags in the freezer room. These bags would then be sold within Foodbank agency space or distributed throughout the various Foodbank hubs. With jackets and gloves on, the team got to work quickly, forming a production line to achieve efficiency. As the day wrapped up, the team had successfully packed over 435 dessert packs, each consisting of a variety of sweet products, such as ice cream, chocolate muffins, iced carrot cakes, and sponge cakes.

It was a productive, positive and great day. The team did an incredible job for Foodbank. They helped power the fight against hunger in Australia. Well done to this BHP Team!
