

STENCILING & SPRAY PAINTING AT ECRWA

Edmund Rice Camps for Kids WA Inc. (ERCWA) is a non-profit community based organisation that serves the needs of kids aged 7-16 and their families. They provide camps and other recreational and developmental activities for children who would not otherwise have access to such opportunities, supporting kids who are 'at risk' or experiencing some form of disadvantage.

On September 3, seven enthusiastic volunteers from BHP's Fixed Plant Control Team contributed their Friday in assisting Edmund Rice Camps to complete the finishing touches of the painted sea containers, sheds and trailer. The aim of Friday's project was to recreate ERCWA's balloon logo, key values and messages by stenciling and spray painting the graphics. The team started their day with a quick brainstorm session to come up with the best plan of attack. After brainstorming, the team was ready to unleash their Inner Picasso. Two team members were crafting, as they created the stencils of the balloon logo. Whilst, the others did the preparation of the key messages and values using alphabet stencils and started spray painting the panels with a splash of bright colours. The team also undergone final touch ups after the spray painting to ensure the sea containers looks presentable and perfect. Throughout the day, the team was super artistic and innovative as they continuously explored new ways to be creative and more efficient with the project. The team successfully managed to add the finishing touches to three sea containers, a shed and the trailer on-site. Incredible effort from this team. Expectations were definitely exceeded. ERCWA greatly appreciated the team's creativity, contribution and assistance.
